HEADLINE NEWS

"How did you miss getting a scoop on Ben Alexander coming to Upland?" a friend asked us the other day. This friend closely follows The Upland News and is aware the local newspaper is almost always first with local news stories.

Nevertheless, the question is a good one and a timely one. And perhaps, if we had not been so cautious, we would have had the announcement last week— instead of this week. In fact, the purchase of an interest in the Upland Motors by the famous T.V. personality was actually in type a week ago. Other personalities in the motor firm, however, asked us to delay publication of the story. We did it, out of deference to them and to the realization that sometimes last-minute negotiations do not materialize.

A spokesman for one of the out-of-town daily newspapers also gave an expressed assurance the announcement would not be made until this week. (At least that is the explanation given us.) The news story nevertheless was published.

The News staff greatly appreciates the full cooperation of the many, many interested persons. About 90 per cent of the news stories in this edition and every edition of The News is published for the first time in any newspaper.

We always seek to keep faith with the community and its residents.

Boy Scout "Camp Out"

You are not invited to camp out this week with Boy Scouts but you are invited to see them in the local "Camp Out" activities Friday night and Saturday. About 100 Scouts from the foothill communities will camp out Friday night on the "Buck Property" — the six acres east of Third Ave. south of C St. The Scouts will be on hand late Friday afternoon with activities for the public during the evening and on Saturday.

You will see them in many interesting competitive events and you will get a glimpse of why Scouting is so interesting for the youngsters.

THE KELBER SUIT

The New Year is not starting off well for the city. The state supreme court will not review the Kelber case against this municipality.

This means, the local ordinance of five years ago is invalid and Mike Kelber, and his associates in the suit are winners — and most of the other Uplanders are losers.

Many California cities have an ordinance requiring developers of subdivisions to help pay for additional park sites and also for control of flood water on the new residential lots. And so, Upland adopted a similar ordinance with the result that nearly $80,000 was added to this special fund. Mr. Kelber, an Ontario city councilman, however, opposed the levy when he developed some of the local citrus area. Two courts supported the contention on the grounds that the measure is unconstitutional.

If possible, the Upland city councilmen will refund all the money. But, then again, a law says councilmen cannot expend money given to the city without good reason. It may take another suit to determine if all contributors to the fund can get their money back.

Ben Alexander Of TV Fame Joins Business Community

New Partner In Upland Ford Agency

Upland will add a celebrity to its circle of business men and Upland Motors will have a new partner with completion of escrow proceedings which will bring Ben Alexander of TV, radio and movie fame into business with Jack Christensen.

Already making plans for expanded business in the Upland plant, Mr. Alexander is scheduled to devote considerable time locally after certain present TV committments are completed.

Known to thousands of TV viewers as Officer Frank Smith, in the award-winning "Dragnet" series, Mr. Alexander has become a successful business man in addition to winning a coveted place in show business. He owns a Ford Agency in Highland Park in addition to other business interests.

To Spend Time Here

Although unable at present to give an exact future schedule as to time he will devote to his Upland interests, he will be here at regular intervals starting within a few weeks, he said.

Mr. Alexander has purchased the interest of Lance Lansford, who came here two years ago. Mr. Lansford plans to return to Boulder city.

Before choosing to invest in the Upland business, Mr. Alexander said he made a careful, analytical study of Upland and the population trend. He forecast a tremendous growth throughout this area.

Foresees Growth

"My principal reason in coming to Upland is because thousands of new residents will be moving into this area soon and in the immediate years ahead" declared the famous TV personality. "We are going to prepare for a big business at the Upland Ford agency and I am looking forward to a very happy association with Mr. Christensen and I hope to become personally acquainted with many Upland residents", said the busy Mr. Alexander as he greeted members of The Upland News staff.

Contest For Name

A contest to obtain a new name for the local Ford agency is under way with $250 being given to the person whose suggestion is selected by the staff of what is now known as Upland Motors.

Mr. Christensen said that many suggestions are sought and everyone is invited to send by mail to the Upland Motors, 310 E. Ninth St., suggested names that might be related to the area or might be desirable for their originality. Envelopes with entries in the name contest should be marked "contest" so they will be properly classified.

Season's Rain Almost 14 Inches; Snow On Slopes

With the weekend storm bringing more than three inches of rain to the area and four inches of snow to the San Gabriel mountains, area agriculturists and gardeners as well as the proprietors of Mt. Baldy Ski Lifts have been happier.

Upland's rainfall, as measured by Liberty Grove Operating Corp. on 19th St., was 3.39 inches of precipitation, making a season total of 13.70 inches. A year ago, the season total was only 7.59.

Mt. Baldy ski slopes had their second snow sufficient for skiing over the weekend and the tows were still in operation late yesterday with sufficient snow remaining for some skiing and lots of playing.

Speaker For Basketball Banquet

Ben Alexander has accepted an invitation to speak at the annual Upland High school basketball banquet to be given March 1 in the Highlanders' gymnasium under auspices of Upland Booster club, President Ray Davis announced late yesterday.

Mr. Alexander said he would be happy to serve as speaker for the banquet, and confirmed the date late Wednesday, Mr. Davis reported.

A popular speaker before boys' clubs and other youth agencies, Mr. Alexander is to speak in St. Louis before the Boys' Clubs of America general session in February.

Known for his friendly disposition and quick wit, Mr. Alexander is pictured by Mr. Davis as being an ideal banquet speaker. "A celebrity as familiar to our youth as television's Sgt. Frank Smith (Mr. Alexander) is certain to entertain and inspire our players, their friends and parents," the Booster president said.

Heart Fund Drive Opens Saturday

Annual Heart Fund drive in Upland will be launched Saturday, according to Chas. Gehrken, Upland-Foothill chairman, following a meeting to plan the February campaign with his area chairmen.

Mrs. H. Logan Locke, county secretary for the Heart fund, is serving in the local campaign as plastic hearts and College Heights area chairman. The plastic hearts will be located in area business houses to receive contributions.

Upland Rebekah and IOOF lodges will again canvass central Upland on Heart Sunday, Feb. 23, Mr. Gehrken announced. The lodge members will make door to door solicitations from the freeway north to 16th St.

Chairmen for other areas of the district are as follows: Mrs. Harry Ledig Sr., Alta Loma; Col. D. J. Rutherford, Upland north from 16th St. to 23d St; Mrs. Wayne F. Cameron, professional solicitation; Calvin G. Shores, advance gifts chairman; Mrs. Ralph Santolucito, Cucamonga;

Edward H. Shotthafer, Red Hill; Dr. Paul M. Flory, San Antonio Heights; Mrs. Geo. Robinson, Etiwanda; James Paulin, Mt. Baldy, and Mrs. Locke, College Heights,

Five Parcels Being Considered As Sites For New Post Office

At least five properties have been suggested to the real estate division of the U. S. postal department for consideration in the selection of a site for Upland's new post office.

Mayor Donald Carr, by letter, has advised Postmaster Roy A. Ray that selection of any one of the sites would meet with general approval. The letter, however, pointed out the fact that a site near the city hall would centralize public services.

Mr. Ray has forwarded information supplied him by the owners to the real estate division and it is expected definite decision on a site will be made within a short time. Owners of the various parcels have described their properties and the price at which they are available. Mr. Ray obtained photographs of the proposed sites and of adjoining and nearby property.

The sites under consideration are reported to be as follows:

The southeast corner of First Ave. and D St.

The northwest corner of First Ave. and C St.

The E. Tweed Stone property on E. Ninth St.

A portion of the Carl M. Buck property on the east side of Third Ave. at C St.

The northwest corner of Third Ave and C St.

Lease on the property now occupied by the post office expires in one year. With the selection of a site, the real estate department will then proceed to call for bids for construction of a building, which will be leased by the government.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dowd, formerly of Rudd, Iowa, are occupying their recently purchased home at 684 E. Seventh St. Mr. Dowd, formerly a farmer near Mason City, is now retired.

City To Return Developers' Moneys

If Upland city councilmen can legally do so, they will seek to return to all contributors the $73,299.92 in a special municipal "park site, school site and flood control fund".

Mike Kelber and associates and a few other developers who paid into the fund under protest are scheduled to get their money refunded. Mr. Kelber, Beecher Hungerford and Col. C. T. Harris joined in a suit questioning legality of the city's ordinance establishing a basis for subdividers contributing to the fund on a per lot basis. They won the suit, the state superior court has ruled.

And so, the councilmen on Feb. 6 will seek to find a legal ruling permitting them to refund all the money. Legal opinion is reported to be divided on the subject. City Attorney Henry Busch points out the law is not specific in permitting funds deposited with the city to be returned. The court decision, of course, entitles winners of the suit and all other persons who paid into the fund under protest to get their money back.

Funds in these special accounts have been kept infact and are available for disposition. City Clerk Hazel Cassell said the park and school site fund totals $34,480 and the flood control total is $38,819.92.

After considering the possibility for many weeks of becoming a candidate, Mr. Mahar decided early this week to offer his name to the voters. He is in the midwest now on business, having left Tuesday evening.

Of the three incumbents, Councilmen Abner Haldeman is reported by friends to be the most likely to seek re-election. He has indicated the possibility of continuing on the council if the voters approve. He has served four years.

Students Canvass For Funds Saturday Following Parade

Saturday, Feb. 1, the student members of the "Oasis", Chaffey district youth center, will have a kick-off parade, for their building fund drive, at which time they will have a caravan of cars and bands through the business streets of Upland, Ontario and Monte Vista. Immediately following the dispersal of the parade, the students will go directly to the home of the adult in the solicitation area that will be assigned each member. At this time, they will receive instructions on "how to solicit" and will commence their door-to-door campaign immediately.

This youth center financial drive will be conducted simultaneously in all the communities that embody the Chaffey district — Ontario - Upland, Monte Vista, Alta Loma, Etiwanda, Mt. Baldy and Guasti.

Students will bear an identification card, worn on their coats and jackets, that will positively identify them as bona fide solicitors for the purpose of raising funds for the Chaffey district youth center. This card will be worn so that the householder will see immediately that the student is at the door on behalf of the youth center. There will be printed receipt cards given each donor in as much as the youth center is a non-profit corporation, and therefore, all contributions may be deducted from income tax.

There will be adult area captains throughout the Chaffey district who will be responsible for getting the materials and kits to their student workers. The students will make daily checks and money deposits during the two-week period. The adult advisors of the financial campaign are Gerald Westphal and Dr. Frank Hutchinson. The books are being set up under the guidance of a local accountant, who is donating his services; the accounting is being done by an experienced bookkeeper, and the records will be on file and may be seen upon request.

This fund raising drive will be unique in that there will be only one public drive for funds — IF, the community support is 100% as anticipated.

Ontario Soroptimist club this week set a precedent for other organizations of the Chaffey district, when it voted to give $500 to the "Oasis" youth center and sparked the campaign for funds to be launched Saturday by area youth.

Police Chief Pledges Support To Bicycle Safety Week

BICYCLE SAFETY WEEK FEB. 2 THROUGH FEB. 8, 1958

The week of Feb. 2 through Feb. 8 has been set aside by Mayor Donald C. Carr as Bicycle Safety week in the City of Upland. (Co-sponsors of the program being the Upland PTA's, Ontario Optimists and Upland Police Dept.)

Carelessness and a disregard of traffic laws are the cause of most accidents. In many instances involving accidents, this carelessness can be traced to the bicyclists. The Police Depart. receives and investigates many complaints and incidents involving violations committed by our young bicyclists throughout the year.

In a great many instances motorists are compelled to decide whether to strike a child on a bicycle or collide with another oncoming vehicle or fixed object. The decision on these occasions is usually the latter and often times results in serious injury and property damage to others, while the bicyclist pedals merrily on his way, not realizing the ultimate result of his carelessness.

Anther serious and flagrant violation committed from day to day is that of riding and parking bicycles on the sidewalks with in our business district. This sets up an immediate hazard to the pedestrian traffic. We have investigated cases whereby pedestrians have been struck or tripped over bicycles and sustained severe injury as a result of this type of violation.

It is the sincere desire of the Police Department to make evey effort to correct and eliminate hazardous practices of bicycle operation. Starting with Bicycle Safety week and continuing throughout the year we intend to introduce our community to a continuous bicycle Safety program. This type of program will not only provide greater safety to the bicyclist, pedestrian and motorist but should instill good operating habits and knowledge of all vehicle laws in the minds of our youth, who are the motorists of tomorrow.

This program has been made the direct responsibility of the Police Dept. Juvenile Bureau, headed by Sgt. Felix Quesada. Success of the program depends largely on parent participation and co-operation. In order that the objective of this program may be realized the Police Dept. pledges its support to all citizns, service clubs and organizations desirous of protecting our children.

Yours very sincerely,
John A. Wessely
Chief of Police, Acting,
Upland Police Department

Yellow daffodils, and yellow succulent blooms, arranged in a crystal container and flanked by tall yellow tapers in silver holders with pink camellias arranged at the base centered the refreshment table. This was by Mrs. E. C. Rosenberger.

Mrs. Blythe Rosenberger and Mrs. Sim Bonsall, co-chairmen, arranged the tea, assisted by Mmes. Roy T. Vick, L. B. Van Ornam, Stephen Yacura, Eugene Penner, Robt. Coulson, H. L. Reading and W. H. Dalton.

Seminar On Admitting At Hospital

The "Admitting Office" was the topic for Tuesday evening's seminar at San Antonio Community hospital when the program was presented by Mrs. Peggy Tinson, admitting and credit officer for the hospital.

Views from the medical staff were given by Donald K. Wake, M.D., and the nursing viewpoint was covered by Mrs. Florence Crider, director of nurses.

The program opened with a short skit to set the scene for the discussions which followed. This was followed by an explanation by Mrs. Tinson of the challenging responsibilities of the admitting officer to create a good first impression of the hospital in the patient's mind. She summarized by reminding all that the function of the admitting office was designed for the patient's welfare and not for those working in the office.

Dr. Wake brought out the doctor's viewpoint on admissions and what can be done by close working relationships between the medical staff and the admitting office.

We've been planning it for a long time! Something that will save YOU time and money—Watch for the announcement from my boss . . .

Ken Brown Weds Miss Julie Scott

Miss Julie Ann Scott, daughter of Mrs. Miles Scott of Indio and the late Mr. Scott, and Kenneth Roger Brown of Upland were married Sunday afternoon in Smith Memorial chapel of Ontario First Methodist church, with the Rev. Chas. A. McClain of Indio First Methodist church officiating.

Mr. Brown is the son of Richard L. Brown, 333 N. Third Ave., and Mrs. Brown of San Bernardino.

Baskets of white gladioli and palms flanked the chancel steps with potted palms and two candelabra standards holding white tapers before the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Anthony K. Harper of Ontario, wore a gown of white raw silk shantung featuring inserts of lace embellished with irridescent sequins The long-sleeved, fitted bodice was styled with a portrait neckline and tiny buttons down the back, to the waist.

The skirt of gathered flounces, worn over a hoop, swept to a chapel train.A fragile crown of rhinestones held her fingertip veil of illusion edged with lace, matching that of her gown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Harper was her sister-in-law's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Saundra Livingston and Miss Joni Raiford of Ontario.

Mrs. Harper's frock was of apricot peau-du-poie, styled with a portrait neckline, and small tailored bows for back detail on the fitted bodice. The full skirt was waltz length.

The bridesmaids' dresses of sapphire peau-du-soie were similar to that of the matron of honor. All wore matching coronets to hold their face veils and they also wore strands of pearls and carried shower bouquets of Talisman roses.

Jean Elizabeth Baugh, as flower girl, wore a frock of irridescent sapphire taffeta, similar to those of the senior attendants, and matching head band. She carried a white basket of white sweet peas and Talisman rose petals.

Donald Cathcart of Ontario was the best man and the ushers were Monroe Osborn of Pomona and Richard Sweet of Ontario.

Mrs. Scott, mother of the bride, chose a frock of silver blue lace over satin, with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Brown, mother of the bridegroom, wore a frock of champagne lace over satin with Burgundy accessories and a white rose corsage.

Miles Harper, nephew of the bride and Fred Simons of Corona, served as altar boys.

Mrs. Harper, the matron of honor, sang, "The Lord's Prayer", "Yours Is My Heart Alone", and "The Wedding Prayer", accompanied by the church organist.

The reception followed in the church social hall when 150 guests attended.

A background arch of white entwined with fern and with large white wedding bells was the background for the refreshment tables. The four-tiered white cake was accented with blue flowers and topped with wedding bells and lilies of the valley.

Assisting as hostesses were Mrs. Rex T. Johnson, Mrs. Nolan Richter, Miss Leora Lizer, Mrs. Roy F. King, Vernon Hare and Mrs. Henry Roman.

For the honeymoon the bride wore a travel ensemble of black with black accessories with which she wore the orchid corsage from her bouquet.

The young couple are spending a week honeymooning in San Diego and Mexico before taking up residence at 513-A Sierra Ct., Ontario on Feb. 5.

Mr. Brown was graduated from Chaffey High school and Chaffey Junior college and is employed at Pacific State Hospital and the Upland News. He plans to continue his education at Long Beach State college.

His bride is employed at Sears Service center, Monte Vista. She was graduated from Coachella Valley High school and is studying art at Chaffey college.

Both grandmothers of the bride attended the wedding. They are Mrs. Lillian Skidmore of San Gabriel and Mrs. Leonore Cure of Pasadena.

2000 Girl Scouts Will Join Annual Cookie Sale

Approximately 2,000 Girl Scouts with eager faces will be knocking on the doors of the residents of the Chaffey Girl Scout Council in anticipation of selling cookies between Feb. 1 and 23.

Mrs. James Mertz, cookie sale chairman, announced there will be no pre-ordering. Three delicious varieties of cookies at 50¢ per box will be sold throughout Ontario, Upland, Monte Vista, Mt. Baldy, Cucamonga, Guasti, Alta Loma, and Etiwanda by Brownies, Intermediates and Senior Scouts.

A goal of three cases per girl has been set, due to the ever-increasing budget costs for maintaining the Girl Scout summer camps, trip and troop camping and the Scouting program throughout the Chaffey Council.

A skating party is being planned for all girls that sell five or more cases of cookies.

Each registered Girl Scout of the council who attends Camp Conifer in the San Bernardino Mountains, has a substantial amount of her fee subsidized with sale profits. Brownies, too, benefit in having a percentage of their fees going to support the Day Camp at San Antonio Park. As Girl Scouting is the only all-girl organization in the community, Camp Conifer is made available to other girls too, but, their fees are handled in a different manner.

The selling of cookies, for summer camp fun, is one way the "Girl Scout Organization is trying to help girls develop as happy, resourceful individuals willing to share their abilities as citizens in their their country, and the world," Mrs. Mertz said.

COOKIE SALE'S PURPOSES TOLD BY CHAIRMAN

New and different cream filled cookies, flaky mint sticks, and vanilla shortbread are the delicious varieties which Girl Scouts and Brownies f the Chaffey District Girl Scout council will be selling during their annual cookie sale, starting Feb. 1.

Mrs. James Mertz, cookie sale chairman announced that a goal of three boxes for each girl has been set. She said there is an ever-increasing cost of maintaining trip and troop camping, the established Camp Conifer, Brownie Day Camp and the Scouting program throughout the council.

As an added incentive all girls who sell five or more cases of cookies will enjoy a skating party.

In addition to the financial assistance the sale gives the council budget Mrs. Mertz explained that there are many other benefits derived from this annual event.

"The cookie sale gives each girl an opportunity to share in the responsibility of providing funds for her troop, and the Girl Scout organization as a whole. It helps to develop self-assurance and poise and provides an opportunity for members of the community to meet the girls and observe them while on a worthwhile Girl Scout project."

RAPIDLY taking form is the new sales building for Upland Lumber and Milling Co., Euclid and Ninth, an all-metal Butler Bldg. with a wooden front. At right, Harland P. Horak and Robt. Joines inspect the new facility of their firm which will be equipped as a serve-yourself store offering lumber, hardware, paints and building sundries.

New Self Service Facility Rises At Upland Lumber Co.

Now being erected in the yard of Upland Lumber and Milling Co., Euclid Ave. and Ninth St., is a large all-metal Butler building to be equipped as a self service store.

All merchandise sold by the lumber company will be displayed in serve-yourself facilities in the new store, to be known as the "Big S" store—Self Service Senter Store. Lumber priced by the piece, tools, paint and sundries will be located in the new outlet of the firm.

A wood front is being added to the metal building, the first Butler Bldg. erected in this area, according to Ken Kottkamp, Butler Manuf. Co. sales representative.

March Opening

Grand opening of the new store is slated for March, according to Harland Horak and Robt. Joines, officers of the corporation. The present sales structure on the corner will be converted to cater to the house and contract building trade, featuring paneling, sash and door displays.

"More and more walk-in trade has created a demand for the new facility," Mr. Horak stated. "It is not as much a convenience as a necessity for us," added Mr. Joines. It will be the first self service lumber and hardware store in this general area, but they have proved successful in the eastern states and the Los Angeles area.

Established In 1890's

Originally established in the late 1890's as the Atwood-Blakeslee Lumber Co. on a site south of the Santa Fe railway on A St. and east of Euclid Ave., where a storage warehouse is retained today. When the early grammar school at Euclid and Ninth was razed in the early 1900's, the firm moved to the site it has occupied for more than 50 years.

Mr. Horak purchased the interest of Emory Sargent in the firm in 1944 and Mr. Joines succeeded his father, C. Frank Joines, when the latter retired from business in 1951.

Highlanders Ride Cowboys To League Win

Highlanders varsity basketball team won their first Tri-County league encounter before a packed gymnasium Friday night by defeating the Chino Cowboys, 50-42. Coach Jerry Kehr's cagers failed in two previous attempts when they were defeated by Claremont last week, 56-48, and by Corona, 69-65.

Upland set the pace when they led 5-0 with 2:37 left in the first quarter but Chino fought back to gain a one-point lead at the end of the eight minute session, 8-7. Spirited action left the halftime score reading 21-21.

The Highlanders crept out in front during the third period by leading 36-30 and maintained the lead until the final gun.

Jack Vermillion wound up with high pint honors by racking up 14 points while Tom Boswell added 12 points to the score. Vermillion also received high point honors when the Highlanders played Ramona by making 14 points as Dave Grace counted 12.

The Highlanders travel to Bonita, Friday and Coach Jerry Kehr urges fans attendance at the game. The team needs all the support the rooters can give," Coach Kehr said.

34 Jr. High Lettermen See Globetrotters

Thirty-four members of the Upland Jr. High school Lettermen's club caravaned to San Bernardino to see the Harlem Globetrotters perform Friday night vs. the Philadelphia Spars. Sponsors of the lettermen are Geo. Schilens and D. Neil. Fathers of players providing transportation to the game were the Messrs. Masluk, Turner, Wilcox, Schubert and Ford.

Lettermen attending the game were Richard Masluk, Bob Franklin, Bruce Funk, Benny Showalter, Don Nowotney, Larry Turner, Wayne Sauer, Clark Corpe, Geo Brancacio, Jim Wilcox and Gary Omotoy;

The Lettermen also sponsored a faculty vs. Upland Jr. High "A" team basketball game on Friday afternoon, with the faculty winning, 42-16. The faculty put on a show of fancy clothing as well as a hardwood spectacle.

Raiders Edge LaVerne In League Tilt

In a tight, low scoring duel the Upland Junior High Raiders kept their San Gabriel Valley league hoop slate clean by edging La Verne, 22-18, on the local hardwood. Inability of the Raider hoopsters to hit their short shots kept the hustling La Verne quintet in contenion, despite being outplayed most of the way.

Guard John Henderson returned to scoring form by tanking nine tallies to lead the local point garnerers. Guard Richard Farmer was next with six. Forward Gary Omotoy contributed a fine floor game.

Starters for Upland were Steve Snyder (3) and Omotoy (1), forwards; Richard Masluk (3), center; Farmer (6) and Henderson (9), guards. The lone local reserve used was Benji Lara.

JAYHI B'S IN LEAGUE WIN

A fiery Upland Junior High "B" team scored their first San Gabriel Valley league basketball victory by nodding the La Verne five, 25-16, on the losers' court. The Junior Raiders spurted to an early lead and were never headed despite a desperate third quarter surge by La Verne.

Center Dave Siruentes led the scoring parade with nine tallies, but credit for the victory was due to the hustle and determination of the Upland quintet.

In a practice tilt earlier in the week the locals dropped a 23-15 nod to Vina Danks. Forward David Storms was high with seven tallies, but the Junior Raiders were out-hustled and out played most of the way.

Lineups for the LaVerne game were:

Partridge Urges Support For Bus Service To Cucamonga

(Editor's Note: The following letter was written by Geo. Partridge, "Mr. Cucamonga of 1958", so honored by his fellow Cucamongans in the recent annual balloting to name the community's citizen of the year. Mr. Partridge is president of Cucamonga School district board of trustees, was instrumental in reorganizing Scouting in the district and has been working for several months to obtain bus service for the area.)

A REPORT ON SEEKING BUS TRANSPORTATION FOR CUCAMONGA

Dear Editor and Fellow Cucamongans:

A recent survey finds more than 7000 people residing in the Cucamonga area. There is not a doctor, undertaker, dentist, lawyer, hospital or even a cemetery in Cucamonga.

Everyone must go into our neighboring cities to transact most of their personal and professional business — which cannot be done here. Because of lack of public transportation one could say our community is being held back. We can only plan for city-hood if there is continued interest or efforts from organizations such as our chamber of commerce, service clubs and other organizations to bring into Cucamonga such needs as public transportation and other items for the general betterment of our people and community.

The Cucamonga Elementary School board, with the help of our administration, has been shouldering the entire efforts of the community, so far, in seeking this bus service. This is not school business, as we well know. Sometimes, because of a lack of a centralized city government, elected governing boards find many items on their agenda which do not pertain to their elected position and attempt solutions for the betterment of the community generally.

The proposed bus line, which must be approved by the Public Utilities commission, is from Ontario bus station north on Euclid Ave., east on G St., north on Del Norte, east on I St. north on El Dorado, east on Fourth St., north on Baker, east on Arrow, south on Archibald, east on Feron and 24th St., north on Center, east on 25th St., north on Turner, east on Foothill, north on Klusman Ave., east on San Bernardino Rd., south on Archibald, east on Feron St., again, north on Turner, west on Arrow to Baker and same return trip to the bus station in Ontario.

Ontario citiens in the Del Norte and El Dorado areas, according to Mr. Shipp of the Citrus Belt Bus lines, have held separate meetings and signed many petitions for this bus service. Many people in our North Town area of Cucamonga have also signed petitions. Roy Colunga of Cucamonga American Legion Post 835, stands ready to float more petitions, if needed, or to assist in any way possible on the grounds of community betterment. He is anxious to give the needy and ill people of North Town transportation to Foothill Blvd. so they may commute to the County Hospital for help and treatment which they need so badly.

Most important is the probability of getting people into the Cucamonga Business center and this can be realized if we provide bus transportation there.

Mr. Shipp is ready, pending approval by the Utilities commission, to being this bus service. Many years ago a similar bus line did operate in this area and operated in the red because of lack of enough fares. Therefore Mr. Shipp would like a guarantee of $40 per day for a trial period to see if the bus line would pay for itself. However, fares will probably pay all or most of this guarantee.

A close look at the proposed bus line shows that it is routed through densely populated sections and also areas which should bring in $40. or more per day in bus fares. The Assn. of Commerce and Industry of Ontario seems willing to sponsor this guarantee but looks to our chamber of commerce or other local organizations to assist. Mr. Davis of the Upland chamber of commerce has indicated cooperation will be forthcoming if we later can extend another bus line into Upland.

The question is "Are the members of the Cucamonga chamber of commerce interested in sponsoring this guarantee along with the A.C.I. of Ontario for a trial period to see if the bus line can operate profitably ($40.00 a day from the bus fares).

Write, phone or contact the Cucamonga chamber of commerce if you are interested in seeing this transportation project fulfilled.

Sincerely,
George E. Partridge

300 Pounds Rags Goal In Boys' Club Fund Raising Project

With 300 pounds of rags as their goal, members of Boys' Club of Upland will continue their rag collections this Saturday, according to Dave Brownell, club director. With the sale of the rags collected, the club plans to purchase leather working tools for use in a permanent fund-raising project. The club members would tool leather items for sale locally.

Mrs. Wayne Cameron of the Boys' club adult board this week announced a gift of $10 from an anonymous donor for use in purchasing the leather tools and supples. Mr. Brownell, stressing the importance of the project in providing a craft with a fund-raising possibility for the boys, expressed appreciation for the gift and asked cooperation of Uplanders in the current rag drive.

Door to door canvassing for rags will be made by the Boys' clubbers Saturday in the area south of Foothill Blvd. between Euclid and Campus Aves. Persons living outside this area, who have rags to contribute, are urged by Mr. Brownell to telephone Ernie Banuelos, Boys' club president, YUkon 2-6872, to have the rags collected.

Mrs. Cameron stated that persons with financial contributions for the Boys' club should contact here or the board treasurer, W. R. Mason.

Highlanders Split Games,

Highlanders' Varsity basketball team was defeated by Claremont, Tuesday, 56 - 48 This was the second Tri-County league game for the Highlanders.

The Highlanders fought a tremendous game but were no match for Claremont's big boys. Claremont had three men on their starting lineup whose height reached 6' 4" each.

Last week the Highlanders romped over the "Vikings" of La Jolla, 75-40. Reserve center Dave Grace hit 23 points in this game.

Tom Boswell and Dave Grace scored 10 and 15 points respectively in the Claremont game.

Kaiser Steel Mill Tours Discontinued

The plant tour program at Kaiser Steel's Fontana plant will be temporarily discontinued as of Monday, January 27, it was announced today by Allen Lynch, assistant director of public relations. This week's existing tour schedule will be completed, but tours presently scheduled for future dates will be cancelled and no more reservations will be accepted.

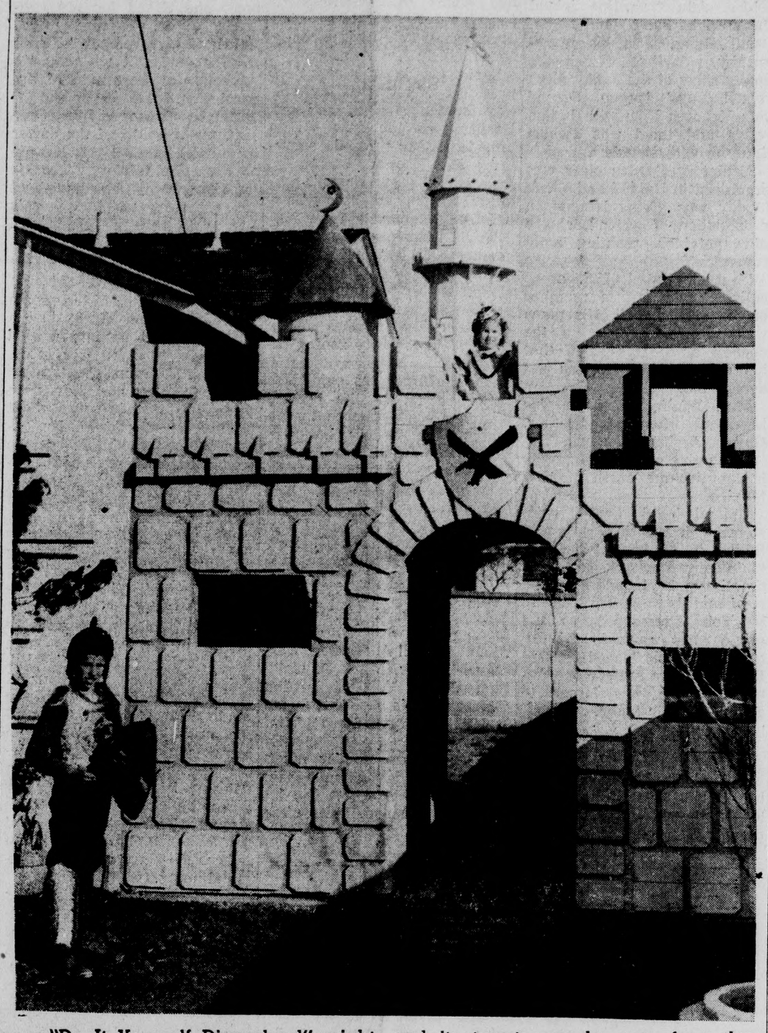

"We sincerely regret the necessity for this action", Lynch said, "but the major construction in the mill and our current reduced rate of operation have made it impossible to give a visitor an adequate view of many phases of the steelmaking process. When the major facilities of our expansion program have been completed and we have safe access to viewing areas, tours will again be made available to the public and to our employees."

City To Increase Home Electrical Requirements

Home Of Convair Design Engineer, Robt. Peres, Show Case For Craftsmanship

"Do It Yourself Disneyland" might be an apt description of this miniature castle playhouse at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. G. Peres, 775 Vallejo way, built as a surprise Christmas gift for 3½-year-old Princess Ellen, on the second level of the castle, by her parents and her brother, Jerry, the knight in shining armor at left. The playhouse in on the south side of the Peres home and its turrets can be seen from the street, over the block wall seen in the picture through the archway. A stairway, still to be built, gives access to the second level where one of the turrets is a real playhouse like the two on the first level. The castle shield bears the insignia of Convair, where Mr. Peres is a design engineer.

Mrs. Peres hasn't been forgotten by her husband as he does woodwork, brickwork and other "at home" projects. Here the Upland homemaker relaxes on the paved terrace about the swimming pool with much of her husband's handiwork about her. Mr. Peres built the circular barbecue (right foreground) which centers the rear garden, built the paved terrace about the pool and much of the home's concrete walls, and the patio shelter. Mrs. Peres is seated at a pink wrought iron patio table which was her Christmas gift. A side yard fish pool with water-fall is also included in the yard features built by Mr. Peres.

Castle Play House Recent Home Project

BY JOEL BAUGH

"Do it yourself" projects in woodwork, electrical installations, ironwork and brickwork have achieved a new dimension at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. G. Peres, 775 N. Vallejo way.

A design engineer at Convair, Pomona, Mr. Peres' ability is evident throughout his home and yard, which the family purchased five years ago when they moved to Upland from El Cajon.

The News discovered Mr. Peres' versatile talent and many projects on sighting his most recent effort, a "do-it-yourself Disneyland" in the south yard of the Peres home. This project, in reality, is a playhouse for his 3½-year-old daughter, Ellen, with a clubhouse also included for his son, Jerry, 9.

Christmas Surprise

Built as a surprise Christmas gift for Ellen, the realistic castle play house was prefabricated by her parents and brother in the family garage. Concrete flooring was poured on the castle site, and for the week before Christmas, Mrs. Peres somehow managed to keep little Ellen indoors while the castle was erected. Christmas morning, Ellen was a surprised and happy little girl.

To complete the fairy tale, Mrs. Peres sewed a princess dress for her daughter and Mr. Peres made a jeweled crown from an old hat crown. A drug store "magic wand" completes the ensemble—except for Ellen's smile. Jerry wasn't forgotten either, for a suit of armor fit for a knight was under the tree for him.

Three Castle Rooms

Of all-wood construction, the castle play house is so designed and painted with a gravel textured paint that it simulates stone construction quite effectively. On the ground level, an arched passage divides the castle in half, with Ellen's play house on one side and Jerry's club house on the other—each interior scaled to the owner's size.

A stairway, yet to be built, will lead to the second level of the castle, where castle turrets of medieval times soar as high as the Peres home. One of the turrets encloses a third castle room, also for Ellen. A shield over the castle archway carries the "coat of arms" of Convair.

Other results of Mr. Peres' building, evident about the home, are the covered patio and terrace about the family swimming pool, patio parakeet cages, a round brick barbecue in the center of the garden, a corner fish pond with waterfall, much of the concrete block walls and flower boxes about the home, and a handsome iron grillwork gate leading from the front yard into the garden. Inside the home, an electric clock installed in a wall, a mammoth high fidelity console, and a modern floor lamp are examples of Mr. Peres' craftsmanship.

C. E. Thornton, 387 E. 13th St., is offering a new service to the community — residential window cleaning. He is specializing in the cleaning of windows in houses throughout the community. He and his family have resided here about 1½ years.

Governor Calls Area Leaders To Youth Session

Governor Goodwin J. Knight has called a California conference on Youth Participation in Community Affairs for Feb. 11 and 12. Included among San Bernardino county delegates invited to Sacramento are Mrs. G. R. Lewis, Mayor Donald C. Carr, Alexander McLeish and E. Tweed Stone.

"We will explore fully the broadening of opportunities for youth and advancing their general well-being and fitness," Gov. Knight states. A number of young people have been invited to participate in the open session and discussion groups.

Conditional Use Permits Given Assistant League, Harry Sepp

Upland Assistance league will soon be ready to enter escrow proceedings for purchase of the two-story home on the northwest corner of Second Ave. and "F" Sts., following approval by Upland planning commission of a conditional use permit to allow use and other League philanthropic purposes.

Mrs. Leslie A. Boyd, League president, and Mrs. Leslie A. Kalil were present with Attorney Wm. E. Walk to support the use permit request before the Planners Thursday night.

A conditional use permit with a variance for the rear-yard setback was granted Harry Sepp, who plans to add a third unit on R-3 property on the southwest corner of Alpine and Palm.

Continued until the next commission meeting Feb. 27 was the conditional use permit request of Lester F. Bennett who proposes to build additional R-3 units at the northeast corner of Fifth Ave. and F St.

Renewed for another five years was the varliance of Andrew J. Barnum, 722 Olive St., for operation of a neighborhood grocery store at that address, one lot east of the southeast corner of Campus Ave. and Olive. The variance was originally granted five years ago on the petition of 84 residents of the area.

A variance hearing was set for 8 p.m., Feb. 27, on the application of Waldo P. Johnson, 807 N. 10th Ave., to permit a roofed patio to connect with the garage.

Mrs. Earl F. Riggs, president of Upland Woman's club, was granted permission to erect a 30 foot flag pole in front of the Upland Woman's club house. Mrs. Riggs said the pole had been given by a friend in the Standard Oil Co.

City Attorney Henry Rusch publicly lauded Dr. Henry G. Brubaker, chairman, and other members of the city's recreation study group, for what he termed "an excellent, comprehensive" report on the recreational needs of this city for the present and the future, which Dr. Brubaker made to the city council Jan. 16.

Wanted—Good Candidates For Upland City Council

Wanted — Many good candidates for the three positions on the Upland city council.

The officials elected in April will serve during a very vital period in the life of the community. Each four years offers its opportunities but the period from 1958 to 1962 will be unusually significant. While a slight economic readjustment is under way at present, the demand will be heavy for land use changes — from orange groves to residential lots and commercial and industrial sites.

The fact is also recognized that Upland's tax rate is in an unfavorable position as compared with other municipalities in the county. The era ahead — and always — must be one of strict economy in public expenditures.

It will take men and women with long range vision and solid judgments to adopt the governmental policies that will maintain Upland as an outstanding community. There is no room around the council table in the city hall for individuals or groups of individuals to give anything but unselfish service.

No "cliques" or "political teams" have ever been on the city council and surely the community doesn't want anything like that to happen now.

Some candidacies have been announced at this writing. Other good citizens should seriously consider the opportunity of serving their community in the city hall.

This is an open invitation for all persons who are at all interested in becoming candidates to announce themselves.

The incumbents may or may not seek reelection. Each of them has served with outstanding credit and in our book they will be recorded as among the best of our public officials.

During the campaign each candidate will receive a generous and fair reception by all voters. Uplanders have always treated their public officials with honor and dignity and a high record of service has been recorded.

At noon Feb. 12 is the deadline for the filing of nomination petitions. The time is getting short.

Yes, It Pays

One of the institutions local people are asked to help support is the Ontario-Upland Y.M.C.A.

Sometimes, the question may be asked; "Does It Pay?"

Several Upland high school students have been speaking recently at local meetings on their experiences with the Hi-Y and the Tri-Hi-Y and we are confident how the question is answered by those who have heard their talks.

To those who haven't heard the students, it can be emphasized that the Y.M.C.A. sponsors many clubs and activities for the young people. The high school organizations have given many local students a vital experience in "belonging", in leadership and in learning on a high plane something about the many problems of daily living.

"Does it Pay?" to help support the Y.M.C.A. The unanimous answer is "YES."

Ben Alexander

Ben Alexander is a popular figure on television, starring as he does in "Dragnet." He is also an automobile dealer in the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

He is also a new partner in the Upland Motor Co., local Ford agency. The fact that he chose to invest in Upland is indicative of the future possibilities of the community.

"I have looked over Upland from the air, from the highways and from all angles and I am confident this is one of the 'coming' communities in the southland," he told us last week.

Other out-of-town observers have also pointed to Upland and the other foothill communities as the locale for much future development.

We are glad to have "Ben" among us.

Council Upholds Commission Denial Of Zone Change

City council Thursday, Jan. 16, upheld the planning commission denial of a zone change requested by Delbert M. Arrasmith for two acres located at the northwest corner of 13th St. and Fifth Ave. Mr. Arrasmith had asked a change from R-1-C single family dwelling zoning to R-3 multiple dwelling zoning.

Nine residents of the adjacent single family residential area spoke in opposition to the zone change. These citizens included Briscoe A. Root, 1318 N. Winston Ct.; Kenneth Olsen, 1367 Winston Ct.; Michael Liberatore, 1336 Winston Ct.; Howard Breeding, 1407 N. Francis Ave.; Mrs. Iva Howell, Third Ave. and 14th St.; John Flaherty, 1314 Winston Ct.; L. C. Berg, and Joe Valentine, 1349 Winston Ct.

Sharps and Flats

By Chuck Barlow

I was a police reporter at the time and fell right smack into the middle of a real wonderful human interest yarn. Because of respect for Alcoholics Anonymous traditions I was honor bound not to write all details of the story.

Now that the central figure of the yarn has, as they say in A.A. "made the program" I am free to write. Henry Murkins didn't care, when he lived, who knew he was a member of Alcoholics Anonymous and now that he is gone I am sure he would approve this story. Those near and dear were prompt to approve.

It is the story of a close friendship and understanding that grew out of a court room scene. An understanding that blossomed between the defendant and the man who was to judge the case.

Henry landed in Judge Fred Jacob's Upland Justice court in January of 1953. Like many who take on a few for the road, Henry had taken on an excess and missed the road.

He and Judge Jacobs had been fellow townsmen and neighbors for many years. Judge Jacobs knew Henry had a problem whether Henry knew it or not. When Henry appeared in court it distressed the judge to have to sit in judgment.

Having recently been briefed on A.A. and knowing considerable about the success of the program, Judge Jacobs decided to use Henry as a guinea pig.

He recommended Henry attend meetings and withheld sentencing until Henry had attended these meetings and reported back to the court.

The result was dynamic. Henry found exactly what he had been looking for in the bottle. He found companionship, understanding and an answer to the vexing problem of alcoholism. As the saying goes, he went for A.A. oike a "kitten for a saucer of warm milk."

When he reported back the account was glowing and enthusiastic. The sentence included a fine, time in the county jail suspended on terms of probation for one year, with necessity to report to the court once a month.

Henry remarked, when he wrote the check to pay his fine, "If this check was for $5,000 it wouldn't be anyways near enough to pay for what I've learned in the last two weeks."

His life from his first A.A. meeting was a crusade to help others who suffered as he had. He knew most of them around Upland and was as intent as a bird dog on local problem alcoholics.

Being new in this territory, and having assignments out in the hinterland, I came to know Henry well as he acted as unpaid guide.

A man who has spent more than 40 years in a locality, and who horse and buggied over most of the back roads, makes a wonderful guide and source of local color stories.

When I was hunting the locale of a story, Henry could always pinpoint the location from what flimsy information I could give. The ride out and back was interspersed with glowing accounts of this wonderful thing he had found.

There was never a youngster more enthusiastic over something new than Henry with A.A. He remained that way for five years. During his last days he was more concerned about an alcoholic with whom he had been working than he was about himself.

His monthly reports to Judge Jacobs were accounts of activities in working with others. The Judge cooperated by refering problem alcoholics to Henry.

As this first year drew to a close, and the probation period and monthly reporting grew toward an end, Henry made the judge a proposition.

"Judge," says Henry, "when a man or woman is sober a year in A.A. they get a birthday cake with the same number of candles on it as the years they have been sober. I'll get a cake with one candle on it and you should have to buy the cake. After all you got me into this thing."

"I'll do better than that, Henry," the Judge answered, "I'll buy the cake and come to the A.A. meeting and give it to you."

And this is exactly what Judge Jacobs did. Every year until Henry's health broke, he received a cake, with one more candle added, from Judge Jacob's hands. A bond of understanding was welded between these two men by this act.

Rarely does a man come out of his shell of living as Henry did. And those who do, learn that to breathe of the joy of living most deeply, on must give of himself most freely.

TIME PASSES

15 Years Ago

Mrs. Ada Galentine joined the staff of the Upland News.

Bill Rugg, with his photography, won first prize in the hobby show of the Junior High school Boys' league. Second was Kenneth Pike with Indian relics and third was Robert Cadnum with sketches.

A Victory Garden class was organized in Upland and Glenn Moody was giving lessons on preparation of ground, choice of vegetables, planting and transplanting.

Paul G. Hottel, U.S. army enlistee, was still a member of the city council. His place was remaining open on the council as it was ruled that his oral resignation was not acceptable.

Mrs. Winifred Duncan was bereaved when her brother, Guy L. Archambeau, was killed with nine other service men in an airplane crash in New Mexico.

Upland had a real rainstorm with 14.28 inches of rain falling in 36 hours. San Antonio canyon was closed due to the tie up by boulders on the road and damage was done to the John Klusman home and grove when water in the Cucamonga wash flooded Foothill Blvd. One family near San Antonio canyon was forced to evacuate their home.

25 Years Ago

Upland Pharmacy was robbed of $75 by three men who locked the clerk in the washroom and made their escape.

Crombie Allen had presented Chaffey college with an Olympic cottage consisting of two rooms with showers to perpetuate the ideals of the Olympics which had recently been held in Los Angeles.

Leroy Civille was elected president of the Chaffey college student body; Oliver Beahrs was the new vice president; Billy Wood, secretary; Joe Wheeler, business manager; Benson Howell, athletic manager and Gladys Bowden, song leader.

W. A. Strong, owner of the southeast corner of Foothill Blvd. and Euclid Ave. was insisting on his right to erect a service station on his property. He claimed there was a loophole in the City zoning ordinance.

About 170 persons evidenced their interest in the Upland chamber of commerce by attending the annual banquet. The chamber had been in existence for 22 years. Six new directors elected to serve for a two year period were, O. E. Atwood, Norman S. Lawson, Leigh Thompson, A. C. Reynolds, James E. Goodhan, and Walter Taylor. L. R. Bradley presided.

Eleven Upland students attending USC were, Dorothy D. Allen, Randall A. Bryden, Dorothy M. Eells, Mark R. Goldman, James V. Guthrie, Ina G. Henry, Lois R. Kent, Susan B. Mehl, Henry A. Reese, Wm. V. Rickel.

A special community meeting was held in Cucamonga in an endeavor to assist the lot of the unemployed. Ideas were also to be exchanged with leaders of other communities.

New Books . . . . . For You

At Upland Public Library

"Are we entering a brave new world where 'happiness' can be bought in pills?" asks the publisher of Robert de Ropp's new book, DRUGS AND THE MIND. de Ropp, a British biochemist, replies with a direct and lucid discussion of the effect that drugs from marihuana to tea have on the mind. The use of them by the individual and by the physician are compared; the history of their uses probed. This is an important book today. You will want to read it.

And while we are on human vices, here's another new book of interest especially if you know of a similar problem. Edmund Bergler, M. D., has published THE PSYCHOLOGY OF GAMBLING, a book about people who gamble. It explains the "thrill" of betting for high stakes and tells why you can't win. Bergler's main concern, however, is for the compulsive gambler who will sacrifice all for the game. The book will give the gambler personal insight and his family deeper understanding.

An interesting new family novel is Roger Eddy's A FAMILY AFFAIR. It is a story of a city, a family, a business, and a way of life. Personal complications, toil, courage, and a bit of glamour enliven the tale.

Here's a book we have had many requests for — Isabelle Buckley's GUIDE TO A CHILD'S WORLD. Written by the Director of the Buckley Schools in Los Angeles, the book presents the philosophy of self-expression through self-discipline. It is, of course, an avowed antidote to the "progressive" school. Interesting and thought-provoking.

With vacation coming on, you may like to use the new HOW TO BUILD -FIBER GLASS BOATS by Charles Bell. It treasts of design, construction, repairs for the yachtsman and the builder and is complete with blueprints.

A new and interesting autobiography is the story of Rudivoravan, Princess of Siam, as told by her to Ruth Knight. THE TREASURED ONE will remind you of two other noted books about the family of King Mongkut. But this "treasured one", daughter of a commoner, broke her royal bonds to become a business woman in Bangkok. She now lives in Washington where she broadcasts to the women of Thailand over Voice of America. This is an intriguing account of a segment of the world in rapid transition.

And for the mystery fan, here is Eric Russell's collection of GREAT WORLD MYSTERIES. These are true mysteries, never solved. Perhaps you can supply the clue that will unravel the puzzle.

Another collection is A BROMFIELD GALAXY, three of Bromfield's finest novels. If you like a long book, here's one to hold you for four long weeks, if you renew it.

Other new books soon to be ready for you are Caitlin Thomas' A LEFT OVER LIFE TO KILL (not a very pretty picture of humanity); O'Brien's YOUR FEDERAL CIVIL SERVICE; a new edition of Dr. Spock's COMMON SENSE BOOK OF BABY AND CHILD CARE; and many others! Come in! This is YOUR Library!

Accountants In Discussion Forum Here

"Work Simplification in Accounting" was the topic at the discussion forum held by the National Assn. of Accountants, Pomona Valley chapter, in Sycamore Inn, Jan. 18. Donald Butler of Upland represented Kaiser Steel at the meeting.

The agenda included talks on the theory and practice of work simplification by Harry Kampf, president of Business Systems, Inc., and Franklin Sloff, controller and treasurer of Byron Jackson division of Borg Warner Corp.

The afternoon session included a discussion period with a panel composed of Messrs. Kampf and Sloff with T. L. McPherson, controller, General Dynamics Corp. Convair; Roger Robbins, assistant controller, Purex corp. and J. M. Callaghan, controller, Air Logistics Corp. as moderator.

Another discussion forum will be held in April of this year at which time all accountants interested in industrial accounting are invited to attend.

The person who always has an emphatic and final opinion should not be taken seriously.

Dr. James V. Latimer — This Life We Live

GOD, GOLD AND THE BEST:

A few weeks ago an author or his publishers mailed me a book and asked for my estimate of it. It was "God, Gold and Government." I read it, of course; then sent the publisher a short note of appreciation. It was an appeal for us here and now to live above the lure of gold and the power of domination. All this led me to do some thinking. That is hard for anyone, because about the greatest task in anyone's life is to turn a corner and face a new idea.

As I thought on government and gold I remembered that Man of God who led his people out of bondage. Moses had a call and went up into a high mountain to talk with God. The Ten Commandments were given to him and he wrote them in stone. One was about having no other god. He naturally supposed his people would be waiting for his return, anxious for his message. So he went back down the mountain.

What he found was that his people had become restless and wanted a god they could see and touch. They acted upon their desire and soon had a god of Gold, not commandments in stone. The women had a lasting part in this also, for it was they who donated their jewels of gold. The men made the golden calf. The people worshipped Gold. Then Moses appeared. He was upset and deeply moved. It is not surprising that he threw down the stone tablets, which were broken. But Moses did not forget, and we have them today. They are our Ten Commandments.

In our day and time another man of imagination and of action has made a show and has called the people together. They have to pay cash for this, and sit through four long hours to hear its message. Even fine friends of mine go to see it and to hear, although they complain if their own minister takes an extra six minutes on Sunday morning to clear-up some point in his sermon.

In "God, Gold and Government" there is a call to highlate Andrew Carnegie said that he hoped to die poor. He then began to give libraries that the youth of our land might read and grow. Throughout the United States the libraries are calling us to higher things and sharing with us the best the world has known. They also emphasize the great truth that,

"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

From The Mailbox

Dear Editor:

Your editorial last week asked for suggestions on how to improve Upland.

Much could be added to the appearance of Euclid Ave., by topping the Grevilla trees as has been done in Ontario. Each winter the Santana winds break off many of these trees, endangering both homes and cars on the streets. This costs Upland considerable money, and leaves the tree row in a rough uneaven condition. Some trees breaking entirely too low, a few have been so bad they had to be taken out.

The saving on this yearly cleanup work would pay big interest on the tree trimming cost, as well as improving the appearance of the street. These are nice trees if properly trimmed. Let us keep them.

Sincrely,
Fred Hodgsor

Five Year Period Comparison

Growth In Taxable Property In County Almost Doubled

There is $194 in assessed value of taxable property in San Bernardino county this year for every $100 in such property five years ago, California Taxpayers' Assn. reports, making public its study of the five year trend of property subject to local taxes in California counties.

Total value of taxable property in the county reached $669,161,950 for the present fiscal year, 1957-58, up $325,126,550, or 94 per cent, from the $344,035,400 total for 1952-53, S. J. Arnold, general manger of the state-wide Taxpayers' Assn said.

12 Per Cent Increase

This year's total taxable valuation in the county is up $70,017,850 or 12 per cent from the $599,144,100 for 1956-57.

Each cent of property tax rate levied throughout the county this year meant a tax charge of $66,916, compared with the $34,404 levy from a cent of county-wide tax rate for 1952-53, and the $59,914 levy from a one-cent county-wide tax rate for 1956-57, Arnold said.

State-wide, there is $151 of assessed value of taxable property in California this year for every $100 five years ago, the Taxpayer study shows.

Total taxable value of property in California hit $24,308,182,706 for 1957-58, compared with $16,107,548,255 for 1952-53 and $21,818,921,643 for 1956-57.

Sales Tax Added

"Along with the increase in property tax base in the past five years, many counties and cities in California have added the local sales tax to their sources of revenue," Arnold said.

"The size of property tax bills depends on the size of local government spending programs — including the county governments and the cities, school districts, and other kinds of districts which tax property.

"Local government budgets for 1958-59 are already being formulated in many California communities," Arnold pointed out.

"If property owners want reasonable local property tax bills for 1958-59, they should be demanding reasonable local government spending programs now," he declared.

Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's Club Partner In Community Center

By Gerry McGeer

In the two years since the Cucamonga Community Center became a reality, residents of Cucamonga and Alta Loma have had much cause to be grateful for the combined efforts of the Servic club and the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club for a project that is serving increasing members of the fast growing area.

Share Equally

Sharing equally in the work and responsibility members of the woman's club have worked on almost every phase of the development from yard work, to scrubbing and painting. In addition their feminine artistry has continued to create an attractive setting for social affairs and business meetings, for which the different common rooms of the center have been rehabilitated and are available to other groups.

Cucamonga Woman's club, formed in 1908 with 16 members, was changed to Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club, when women of the sister community joined the group. The first meetings were held in homes of members.

From the beginning the hope of members had been to have a meeting place of their own and at the same time provide a place for other community events.

Since the organization of the club the women worked to this end. Dinners, food sales, rummage sales and apron sales were used to raise funds. During the famous Cucamonga Grape festivals, members had a pie and ice cream booth, the pies being donated by friends and members. Funds used were invested in U.S. Savings Bonds, through the years.

$1,000 Bequest

Due to a bequest of $1000 by the late community minded Ray Sweeten, former publisher of the Cucamonga Times, the Service Club was also interested in a permanent home as the request was stipulated for that purpose.

Resources of neither club were enough, however, until early in 1956, the old Cucamonga Central school, vacated for newer quarters, was put up for sale.

The building had been vacant for some time. Vandals, wind and neglect had taken toll of the building. Part of it had been condemned. All the windows were smashed, electric wiring destroyed, all light fixtures damaged.

When it was put up for sale the bid of the Service Club got the very dilapidated building and the surrounding 2.17 acres of land for $1575. In Feb. 1956, just after the purchase, a Declaration of Trust, drawn up and signed, made the Woman's club a partner and part owner of the property. Both clubs agreed to pool their resources and labor in rehabilitating the premises for community use.

Committee Named

A committe made up of two members from each club was named as the governing body and to transact all business. Mrs. J. D. MacPherson and Miss Ruth E. Milliken acted for the Woman's club. Clifton Chappell and Herbert Vaughan acted in the same capacity for the Service club.

Resources pooled to buy the building amounted to $1500 from the Woman's club, after the sale of their bonds and $1780 from the service club, including the Sweeten bequest.

This is where the project, as a working program really began, for there was much to be done, and insufficient funds for the necessary major repairs.

Big Project

Members of both groups pitched in to clean the building and ready it for the first joint project, a giant auction, rummage, food and apron sale. This first effort produced $650.59.

In the meantime the committee had won the cooperation of a local lumber company and a local contractor who undertook to do the necessary work on liberal terms. Many hours of work were donated by members of the Service club and even men who do not belong to the club worked on the building to the point where the women could help.

After three months of labor construction by Little league members and their dads, is a two-story booth. The lower booth will house a concession stand and the top booth will have a loud speaker system. Chain link fencing, purchased by the Community center committe will soon surround the entire grounds.

A small garage building on the grounds has been turned over to the Boy Scouts for use as their Scout house. Some repairs have been made by the Scouts and their Scoutmasters, other improvements being planned will be completed soon.

Steak fries and barbecues, long an institution of the Service club, are now held on the grounds. The large barbecue pit of bricks was built by members and their club supplied the materials.

Used Auditorium

The Woman's club didn't wait for the auditorium to be finished before they started holding meetings there. Their first meeting was held in the unfinished, unpainted auditorium in Oct. 1956. The re-finished floor was in gleaming contrast to the patched wall and the stained ceiling and also to the makeshift chairs on which members sat.

All this is changed today. Accoustic tile is in place on

Women Try For Prize

Fifty year-old Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club has a membership of 77 women. Since 1956 the club has carried on a joint project with the men's Service club of Cucamonga, in the rehabilitation of the old Cucamonga Central school building as a community center.

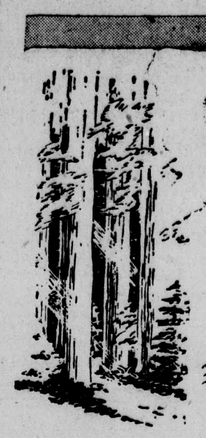

The Woman's club has a full partnership in ownership of the building and grounds and has shared in the purchase and the volunteer work involved in creating the center which is increasingly important to the two communities.

Because of this community work the club is eligible and is applying for the Sears Roebuck Foundation award of $10,000.

Mrs. W. W. Youngs, president, has announced that if won, it is the intention of the members to turn the money over to the club operating committee comprised of two members of the Service Club and two Woman's club members, for further improvements

Members of the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club are, Miss Eleanor Albert, Mrs. Arthur Allen, past president; Mmes. Victor Arias, A. C. Beattie, Maud Bonillas, R. W.

For Little League

Community spirit reached a high peak when ground was allocated for use as a Little League park. Local merchants and business men made an initial donation of $25 each toward this project, with a pledge of an added $10 each following year. The fenc surrounding the playing field was divided into panels, each one serving as billboard advertising space for the donors.

Little League boys and their fathers worked along with Service Club members on weekends and evenings preparing the playing field and building bleachers.

Sponsor Breakfast

Little League mothers and fathers sponsored a breakfast in March, 1957, in the Community Center to raise funds for playing equipment and to further improve the park. American Legion members, other public spirited and Service Club members next constructed concrete block dugouts for use of teams. Newest addition, now in process of by the contractor, electrician and floor repairmen the women really went to work. Armed with brooms, mops and pails, paint, paste and other aids, they were on the job. Some filled cracks in the plaster, some painted, some scrubbed, some hung wallpaper and some chiseled the old putty from the window sashes so that glass could be replaced.

The kitchen was put in order first and attractive matchstick drapes were the final feminine touch. Much work was done on the auditorium, but with an eye to revenue, two former classrooms were put in order for rentals. One was soon occupied by the Cucamonga Water District and the other is occupied by the area chamber of commerce.

the ceiling. Attractive lighting fixtures hang from the ceilings. Walls and woodwork are fresh with paint of a soft neutral shade.

When the hall was in condition to be rented, accumulated debts of the center totaled nearly $6,000. Rentals to two square dance clubs have rought in $1625. Community dinners and dances have r alized $716. A local subdivider, interested in the project, donated $1000 and smaller donations have amounted to $107.

Wide Use Of Center

The auditorium, for which the woman's club bought attractive chairs and the service club supplied tables, has been used for wedding receptions, private parties, American Legion meetings, in addition to activities of both owner clubs. A church group also used it for a time.

Teen-age dances for young people of the community are also sponsored th re by the Woman's club.

With proceeds from a card party the Woman's club purchased a dinner service for 60 and, taking the necessary quota of members to a Hollywood TV show, received a gift certificate enabling them tc purchase stainless steel table flatware to serve 72.

Both the Service club and the Woman's club pay a flat monthly rental of $25. This applies to current expenses.

The indebtedness now stands at $3800.

Each week brings its problems, according to Mrs. Macpherson, committee member, who when this was written, was busy making arrangements to have the old kitchen sink and drain board modernized with stainless steel, to meet with county health requirements.

Rigid Requirements

Other rigid requirements have been met, including the installation of safety locks and the replac ment of steel framed safety glass windows in the hall off the auditorium.

Rest rooms are to be modernized and the exterior of the building is still to be painted. Two former classrooms, not yet rejuvenated, will complete the rehabilitation.

A conservative estimate of hours spent by members of the Woman's club in the work has been set at 500 hours. Volunteer hours donated by men of the Service club is estimated at 1600, exclusive of time spent on the Little League grounds.

The entire community was on hand when the auditorium was formally dedicated as Sweeten hall, honoring the man whose bequest made it possible for the Service club to purchase the old school.

As the community continues to increase its population, the importance of the community center is realized. Its activities in one form or another are slanted to bring enjoyment to people of both Alta Loma and Cucamonga of all ages.

Parents' Party Honors Barbara

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson 775 Redding way, were hosts to 60 eighth graders of Upland Junior High school at a games and dancing party in the Upland Woman's club house, Saturday evening, on the occasion of their daughter Barbara's 14th birthday anniversary.

A novel bean game was carried on throughout the evening. All guests were given beans and rules enabled them to collect from other guests. At the close, Beryl Drayton and Ted Gililland won prizes for collecting the most beans.

Mrs. Johnson cut the large birthday cake which was included with refreshments.

Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Swihart and Mr. and Mrs. Corydon Smith.

Mrs. Thompson January Winner Of Golf Trophy

Mrs. Mitchell Thompson, women's champion golfer at Red Hill Country club, has finally broken into the win column in the monthly Red Hill women's trophy competition, currently known as the Red Hill Pitcher play.

In the regular January Pitcher play, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. O. H. Shelton tied with net scores of 72. In the playoff played Jan. 16 at Red Hill, Mrs. Thompson won with a low net of 74.

A trophy is offered in the competition held the second Thursday of every month, with three monthly wins required for permanent possession. In the past a silver platter and a silver bowl have been awarded and now a silver pitcher trophy is at stake. Despite her top ranking at Red Hill, this month's pitcher win was the first for Mrs. Thompson in the competition. Mrs. Shelton earlier won permanent possession of the Red Hill Bowl with three wins.

ANNUAL DINNER FOR SCOUTERS

Mrs. Frank Taylor, chairman for the annual Girl Scout Assn. dinner and election, to be held Tuesday, 6:30 p.m. in the Upland Woman's club house reports there are still reservations available. The Scout leaders and their pro- are being featured through a centerpiece display designed by each troop. This display symbolizes some phase of the troop's program during the past year. Mrs. Taylor also stated that a slide and strip-film projector will be presented as a gift of the Upland Woman's club, as a memorial to the late Adda Manker.

Boost International Living Project

Edw. Pollack, Upland student at Chaffey college, was host for Leighton Rollins, right, West Coast director of The Experiment In International Living, when the latter spoke here Sunday to a group of 27 persons interested in The Experiment. Director Explains Experiment In International Living For Interested Group Here Sunday

Due to the enthusiasm of Edw. Pollack, Upland student at Chaffey college who spent three months abroad last summer as a participant in The Experiement in International Living, the West Coast director for The Experiment, Leighton Rollins, visited Upland over the past weekend and spoke Sunday afternoon to a gathering of 27 interested students and parents.

John B. Atwood and young Pollack were hosts for the meeting at which the group learned that The Experiment is in its 26th year, although it is relatively new on the West Coast.

Special Features

On the strength of a belief that "people learn to live together by living together," The Experiment provides students with a method to really getting inside another country and learning how the people of that country live,work and think. This program has seven special features:

Membership in a small group of about 10 members; carefully selected and trained leaders; travel overseas in the stimulating atmosphere of a student ship, a month's 'homestay' with a family in the country of the student's choice; a period of extended travel in the company of young people of the host community of the first month; an opportunity for a short period of independent travel abroad (for college-age groups), and all the opportunities that arise.

7,000 Experimenters

"Since 1932, 7,000 Americans have returned enthusiastic boosters of The Experiment," Mr. Rollins emphasized. Participants are 16 to 30 years of group provides for citizens age, and in a special adult past 30. Students aged 16 and 17 must demonstrate unusual maturity.

Selection is based on a person's genuine interest in making a personal contribution to international understanding, his proven maturity and ability to get along well with people of different backgrounds and interests, constructive interests or hobbies, experience in outdoor living, conversational fluency where a foreign language is required, satisfactory academic standing, and sound emotional stability and physical health.

Visit Many Countries

English speaking groups may visit most Europena countries and the British Isles, with language speaking groups visiting 10 countries, including neighboring Mexico.

A student or his parents pays the program fee for his trip, which amounts to about half the expense of a similar trip made independently. Estimated cost of a European trip is $800, with the most costly trip (to India, Japan or Nigeria) costing $1400.

Applications may be obtained from The Experiment, 3 W. Carrillo St., Santa Barbara, and are accompaned by a $25 fee. Scholarships are available for college age persons, provided by Crown-Zellerbach Corp., but no scholarships are available for high school students except where the local community provides it.

Supported By Grants

Low cost for the tours is made possible through The Experiment by grants from foundations and interested citizens of the United States. This year, for the first time, The Experiment is chartering an entire ship to sail June 23 from Montreal with 900 Experimenters, 90 leaders and Experiment officials aboard. It will return from Europe on Sept. 5.

Aboard ship, Experimenters are given orientation for their experience, such as Ed Pollack enjoyed last summer in Germany. On the return trip aboard ship, evaluations are made of the experience.

Visited In Germany

The first student of this area, excepting students from the Claremont colleges, to participate in the Experiment, young Pollack tells of living with a German family for one month, then with his Experimenter group and members of his foster German family, touring the country for three weeks, returning for a brief visit with his foster family and then a week in Paris before sailing for home.

The Upland Student, whose mother, Mrs. Edw. Pollack, is a housemother on the Scripps college campus, was in an Experiment group whose leader was a staff photographer for National Geographic magazine, and pictures of the group are scheduled for a story in that famous publication.

Seniors Raise $20 At Dance

The senior class at Upland High school raised in excess of $20 by holding a noon dance on Thursday. Ten cents was charged for aamission. The money will be used for senior activities at the end of the school year, according to Mke Hanamura, class president.

The canning industry was inaugurated during the Napoleonic wars, when soldiers demanded a means of keeping food from spoiling.

Why all the bother-

fresh-air sweet indoors?

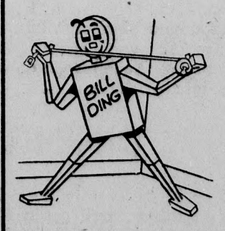

Only Electric Dryers can do it. In an electric dryer, radiant coils warm the air inside. There's no flame, none of the by-products of combustion. It's cleaner and purer than any other way of drying. 32% fluffier than back-yard drying—and electric drying doesn't fade colors.

Electric dryers not only cost less to buy, but less to maintain. Before you tote another load out into the hot sun, see the new electric dryers at your appliance dealer.

We're investing another $74 million for expansion in California in 1958

CALIFORNIA is growing at such a pace that, by 1965, it is expected to have the largest population of any state in the Union.

This confronts General Telephone with many challenges—especially because so many of the communities we serve are in suburban areas—the fastest-growing areas in the country.

To keep abreast of this rapid growth, we're installing new telephones at the rate of nearly 8,500 each month in Southern California.

Yet the big job of meeting the demands of this growing population still lies ahead.

To provide these many new telephones when and where they are needed in the 127 communities we serve, our company will spend $74,000,000 for new plant and equipment during 1958. Nearly all of this money —plus millions more for future expansion— must be raised through the sale of our securities.

So our responsibility is clear.

We must make certain that those who purchase our securities, as well as present shareowners, are paid a reasonable return for the use of their money.

We must make sure that we furnish the very finest telephone service at fair and adequate rates.

This is the sound way to grow.

1,000 ENJOY DANCING TO BAND OF RENOWN AT "OASIS" OPENER

One thousand members and guests of the "Oasis", Chaffey district youth center, danced Friday evening to the music of Les Brown and his 'Band of Renown", in the National Guard Armory building for the first function of the organization. The dance, featuring this top name band, was financially underwritten by approximately 300 adult boosters within the Chaffey area.

A true desert atmosphere prevailed with a real "Oasis" and life-sized Pamela, the camel, greting each guest in the foyer. The bandstand, at staggered elevations was elegantly placed under a canopy of drapes. Giant clusters of colorful balloons were suspended from the ceiling amid streamers of crepe paper that had been artistically festooned across the room. Gigantic lettable in keeping with the "Oasis", greeted guests.

A mural painted by the student decorations committee, created additional desert atmosphere and palm tree centerpieces were placed on each tabl in keeping with the "Oasis" motif. Beautiful shrubs and plants, including palm trees completed the desert decor.

The National Guard Armory facility was loaned to the students for the gala affair.

Student co-chairmen were Tom Cleland of Upland and Bob Estabrook of Chaffey High school.

The student conducted door-to-door financial campaign for at least $50,000 will commence Saturday, Feb. 1. The doorbell ringing brigade will be preceded by a gigantic parade and rally of all student members of the "Oasis", throughout the communities of Ontario, Upland, Monte Vista, Cucamonga and Alta Loma.

Report Made By Recreation Study Group

Concluding a study project of the past year, Dr. Henry J. Brubaker, chairman, submitted the report and recommendations of the Upland City capital improvements committee on parks and recreation to the city council on Thursday night, Jan. 16.

Dr. Brubaker gave a comprehensive verbal report of the committee's work and presented copies of the report, "Recreation for Upland," and a map prepared by Simon Eisner and Associates designated as "School and Recreation Elements of the General Plan," which maps a plan of school-city joint playgrounds.

Mrs. Rick Byrket reported on the recreation questionnaire used to poll Uplanders on desired recreational facilities. Dr. Brubaker cited Lyle Stewart, city planning technician, for invaluable assistance to the committee.

General content of the recreational report was published in an exclusive story by The News several months ago.
